

Sustainability in visitor attractions

25-26 APRIL 2023, ONLINE

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

What is greenloop?

blooloop is delighted to announce the third year of greenloop – our sustainability in visitor attractions conference – to be held online on 25-26 April 2023.

In the week following Earth Day 2023, greenloop is the only conference focused on sustainable initiatives for the visitor attractions industry.

Highlighting the latest trends and developments from industry leaders, greenloop will share best practices and inspire us all to become more sustainable in our businesses and protect the planet.

In addition, we will showcase industry innovators who are tackling the climate challenge and be a catalyst for networking and debate.

Why sponsor greenloop?

- 1 greenloop is the world's most-read website for visitor attractions professionals, backed by powerful social media, with a proven track record in delivering successful online events.
- 2 We will have a stellar line up of speakers, together with superb networking opportunities to create a high-level, content-driven event delivered by industry leaders.
- 3 Align yourself with leading international brands in demonstrating forward looking innovative thinking to tackle the world's biggest problem.
- 4 Be part of the solution for the planet - join the conversation at greenloop and help future proof your business and the industry.

TESTIMONIALS

Ellen Wilkinson, Content Marketing Specialist, attractions.io

"We believe that technology has a vital role in play in sustainable business transformation. By sponsoring and delivering a keynote at greenloop 2021, we were able to share that passion with a targeted group of like-minded professionals for whom our solution would have maximum impact.

"Following the event, a number of attendees reached out to us to continue the conversation, often at attractions we hadn't had the opportunity to engage with directly in the past."
