

STORY

Now it is time for a safe return home as our vistors enter the 3 last scene, a beautiful end show where visitors encounter the professors granddaughter, explaining the importance of the missing documents being the conservation of knowledge and passing it forward from generation to generation.

Having survived the Quake, visitors are faced with the drama • of the destruction and panic as they again wander the streets of Lisbon. Hearing a rumbling sound in the distance they quickly realize they still need to escape the upcoming Tsunami as well.

- Visitors first arrive at the training center, where through 2. different unique interactive stations, they are able to build up their scientific, historical and emotional background to become prepared for their extraordinary adventure.
- Next the visitors continue into 'Significant Earthquakes' to 3. experience a simulation of several of the most important earthquakes occurred around the world.
 - Being prepared now, it is time for visitors to step into the professor's special time machine, traveling back to Lisbon in 1755, during which they pass by several other significant world events.

Entering Sala dos Contos, everything is calm again as visitors 8. Entering Sala dos Contos, everything is call age have time to reflect on their experience and educate themselves on the aftermath through interactive stations divided into the survivors; the civil protection and the reconstruction. Here our visitors will also discover the missing documents which will magically come back to life based on our own newfound knowledge gathered throughout our journey.

.....

6.

Once our visitors hear the sound of the church bells, it is time for visitors to enter the church. Which seems as a normal mass, quickly evolves into the big event where the vistors actually relive the massive earthquake as it happened in 1755, brought to live through state of the art projection mapping and simulated movements.

> 5. Arriving finally in 1755, just 10 minutes prior to the Quake event, visitors find themselves in the bustling streets of Lisbon during All Saints' Day, a Christian festival celebrating the entire pantheon of saints.

> > The experience starts when visitors find themselves in an abandoned laboratory. Through a tape recorded message, they meet Professor Luis and get introduced to the incredible story of Lisbon. Their adventure starts when the Professor calls upon their help to find and return some important missing documents for his research. For this journey however, the visitors need to travel back in time, survive the 1755 quake, the fires, tsunami and return home safely.